JOB ANNOUNCEMENT - Assistant Wildlife Biologist

Job Title: Assistant Wildlife Biologist, Salary Full Time

Location: Based in Redding or Fall River Mills, California, beginning any time after October 1, 2017 (if available)

Summary: Responsible for providing general wildlife and forest management assistance, surveys and monitoring. Work area will occur on 290,000 acres of private forestland in northeastern California. Work may include timber harvest plan layout and marking. In the future work may also be involved in interaction with both state and federal regulatory personnel.

Description: Assist in surveying, monitoring and administration of wildlife projects including Northern spotted owls, goshawks, fisher, willow flycatcher, Greater sandhill crane and other wildlife species. May also assist or conduct native plant surveys. Nighttime survey of spotted owls is the primary job task from April through June. Assist in preparation of wildlife survey and monitoring maps using Arcmap. Primarily in the fall, assist Wildlife Biologist and Foresters with wildlife habitat information, timber harvest plan review, field data entry and preparing reports.

Qualifications: Bachelor of Science degree in Forestry, Wildlife, Fisheries or closely related discipline. One field season experience in Northern spotted owl surveys is desired. Have strong quantitative, oral and communication skills. Familiar with Microsoft Excel, Word and Arcmap or ArcExplorer software. Ability to work safely in rough, steep terrain during poor weather conditions. Experience driving ATV's is desired.

Wages: Compensation depends on qualifications and experience.

Application: Please submit letter of introduction and resume no later than October 1, 2017 to: Stuart Farber, W.M. Beaty & Associates, Inc., 845 Butte Street, PO Box 990898, Redding, CA, 96099 or stuf@wmbeaty.com
