

Sierra Pacific Industries

Growing forests for our future....

Summer Employment with Internship Opportunity

Forestry Technician

Forestry Technician Job Description: The Forestry Technician's primary duty will be variable plot cruising. The work is arduous in that the cruiser must cross-county hike and negotiate steep, brushy terrain to establish sample plots.

Forestry Technicians may also help with marking, cone collecting or other forest management tasks as assigned.

Forestry Intern: The SPI forestry intern will experience the day-to-day operation of our forest management program with hands-on activities performed alongside our foresters. One Forestry Intern will be selected from the highest ranked Forestry Technician applicants.

Qualifications: Enrollment or acceptance in a Forestry, Natural Resources, or related program of study is preferred.

Dates of Employment: Summer 2012

Base Location: Anderson, California

Equipment and Provisions: All equipment necessary to complete an assigned task will be provided by SPI, including company trucks. Employees must provide their own cruiser vest and boots. Meals and lodging will be provided by SPI if the employee is assigned to work from a location other than his or her base. A generous housing allowance is available to out of area employees.

Salary: Competitive

Please send cover letter and resume to:

Forestry Division Personnel Coordinator
Sierra Pacific Industries
P.O. Box 496014
Redding, CA 96049-6014

or vlowery@spi-ind.com and enter Forestry Technician in the subject line

Must be postmarked or emailed by March 1, 2012

Based on the information submitted in the résumés, only the most qualified applicants will be contacted by Sierra Pacific Industries.

Equal Opportunity Employer