

Lead Colorado's Forestry Efforts as a Supervisory Forester – Hiring for TWO Locations!

The Colorado State Forest Service is seeking two Supervisory Foresters to oversee and manage critical forestry programs and projects. These roles include direct oversight of planning, program execution, and day-to-day operations, with policy-level decisions elevated to senior leadership as needed.

As members of the Area Operations Team, the Supervisory Forester collaborates to allocate resources, ensure cohesive program delivery, and achieve agency goals on time and within budget. These positions also serve as a liaison to related functional divisions and program areas, helping to implement agency priorities at the field level.

Key Responsibilities:

- Lead one primary functional area (Science & Data, Communications & Communities, or Forest Planning & Implementation) and support others as needed.
- Supervise and coach staff, manage workloads, and support professional development.
- Oversee project and program implementation, ensuring alignment with CSFS goals and policies.
- Manage project budgets (ranging from $5,000–$1 million), contracts, grants, and agreements.
- Coordinate with partners, local officials, landowners, and Area leadership to deliver cohesive, effective program work.
- Support annual work planning, record-keeping, and reporting for your Field Office and Area Operations Team.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in forestry, natural resources, or related field
- Four years of professional forestry experience
- Valid driver's license (or ability to obtain)

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience supervising staff and leading forestry projects
- Strong skills in partnership-building, public engagement, budgeting, and grant/contract management
- Knowledge of western U.S. forest management practices and field forestry techniques
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office, ArcGIS, GPS, and geospatial tools
- Professional certifications such as SAF Certified Forester or ISA Certified Arborist

Salary: $65,000 - $70,000 (based on experience)
